HONOR OUR WAR DEAD.

Wilson, Pershing Eulogize Slain.

Memorial Day Observances in France are Particularly Notable Events.

No American Grave Overseas is Neglected in the General Tribute to Heroes.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
PARIS, May 30.—In the American cemetery at Suresnes, near Paris today, during the ceremony of paying tribute to the American dead on the occasion of Memorial Day, President Wilson made his first reference to the League of Nations since the covenant was completed. His words were delivered in the presence of thousands of American soldiers and many civilians and the official representatives of the French government, including Marshal Foch. Numerous distinguished members of Allied officialdom who had come to pay tribute to the American dead also heard the President's words.

Touching on the reasons which had brought the American troops overseas, the President said they had come to defeat the things for which the Central powers stood, "the arrogant, selfish domination which they intended to establish; and they came, moreover, to see to it that there never should be a war like this again."

NEVER AGAIN SUCH A WAR.
"It is for us, particularly for us, who are civilized, the great lesson of this war," he said, "to use our proper weapons of counsel and agreement to see to it that there never should be a war again. The nation that should now find out of this common concord of counsel would betray the human race."

"So it is our duty to take and maintain the peace," he said, "and to see to it that the mothers of America and the mothers of France and England and Italy and Belgium and all other suffering nations should never be called upon to see this again. And it will be done."

"The thing that these men left us, though, is the great lesson of this war," he said, "to use our proper weapons of counsel and agreement to see to it that there never should be a war again. The nation that should now find out of this common concord of counsel would betray the human race."

UNWAVERING ATTENTION.
The cemetery is situated on the hillside of the ancient fortress of Mt. Valerius. With the old buildings at its base, the cemetery looked over the graves of the American soldiers and down into the city of Paris. The approach to the cemetery and the paths winding their way through the burial ground were lined with soldiers, standing at attention, American on one side and French on the other, as the President arrived.

The result of the ballot being taken by the metropolitan police will be announced Sunday. The ballot will decide whether the strike will begin Tuesday. A majority of the metropolitan force is said to favor a strike.

While the question of wages is the reason for the threatened strikes in the provinces, it is not involved in London. The government has agreed to increase the wages of the metropolitan force, retroactive to April 1. The policemen want recognition of their union and reorganization of their union.

CARRANZA'S FALL IMPENDING, VIEW AT U. S. CAPITAL

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The fall of Carranza as President of Mexico is near at hand. This is the view held in American and Latin-American diplomatic circles as a result of the proclamation of Villa forces making Gen. Felipe Angeles provisional President of Mexico and Villa Secretary of War.

Carranza is about to pay the price for doubling foreign nations, particularly the United States, as well as pursuing a false economic and financial policy in Mexico.

The combination of Angeles and Villa gives brains and power to the new movement for the overthrow of the Carranza regime. It is believed in Washington, and the movement, as a consequence, may be expected to go far toward success, if the goal is not reached completely.

That Carranza may expect little sympathy from the United States, and practically no aid of any character, is taken for granted, inasmuch as Carranza's foreign policy has led many nations to demand of this country steps toward curbing his power. Carranza, apparently, under the influence of French and American agents during the period of the war, was antagonistic to this country, and since the execution of Mexico from the League of Nations has been particularly bitter against President Wilson and the United States.

Recent revelations that Carranza, during the last few weeks, has been working hard to give Villa, President of Mexico, an alleged war plot against Nicaragua, is taken as further indication that the best interests of Latin-America and Mexico cannot be or will not be served by the present Mexican regime. Conditions of chaos within Mexico which are growing worse rather than better, have led to such general dissatisfaction that it is believed Carranza cannot long resist the tide that now seems inevitably flowing against him, particularly if this country does not render him aid.

Angels has the confidence of American officials. It is known, however, that the Carranza regime is in a state of collapse. The Carranza regime is in a state of collapse. The Carranza regime is in a state of collapse.

Although the Carranza government is in a state of collapse, the Carranza regime is in a state of collapse. The Carranza regime is in a state of collapse.

TEXAS BALKS MEXICO PLAN.
Governor Demands Definite Assurances of Protective Measures for Americans.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
AUSTIN (Tex.) May 30.—Gov. Hobby must be satisfied personally that ample protection will be afforded Americans and their property in Mexico before he will give definite approval to the plan to send Mexican troops through Texas, the chief executive emphasized today.

In an exchange of telegrams with the State Department at Washington today, the Governor pointed out that mere assurances from the department that protective measures will be taken will not be sufficient, but that permission for the Mexicans to enter Texas will be withheld "pending definite advice from the department as to the precautions taken."

SANTA FE (N. M.) May 30.—"My personal judgment was against granting permission for Mexican troops to pass through New Mexico, but I gave my consent when the government asked it, because I did not wish to hinder the national administration in its foreign policy," said Gov. Larrazolo at Las Vegas today.

Wonderful Fortunes Drawn from the Oil Fields.

New Millionaires Wonder How to Spend Their Money.

Churches Share in Fabulous Income from Lands.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

RANGER (Tex.) May 21.—Many of the stories of sudden and big riches that have come to men and women of the Central West Texas oil fields during the last several months read like wild flights of fancy. Aladdin with its wonderful lamp and ever-handy genie had nothing on the strange goddess that seems to be presiding over the material destinies of the people of this region. The average land owner of Central West Texas went through a trying time during the long period of unprecedented drought which only recently came to an end. Their farms that even in the best of seasons produced barely enough to give them a living, were mostly barren of vegetation during the three years of drought. Fortunately for the discouraged owners, there was no demand for their land at any price. No one wanted to buy the burnt-up farms.

In order to provide themselves and families with a living source of income, the owners of the drought-stricken farms moved temporarily to other parts of the State and even to the more remote parts of the country. Many of these land owners left their farms and accepted positions at good wages in different parts of the country. Many of these men who a little more than a year ago were forced to borrow money to live on their country are now millionaires or near-millionaires. They returned home with their pockets full of money, and many of them have been paid for prospective oil rights.

PROFITS BY DELAY.

In one case at least the difficulty with locating the owner of a 40-acre farm in the Ranger district, shortly after oil was discovered here, had been a hindrance to the man many thousands of dollars more money for his oil lease than he probably otherwise would have received. The farm owner in question was Henry Lobard. He was one of the drought refugees who had come to a shipbuilding plant in Louisiana in order to make enough money to live on. When the drought began to develop land lease values mounted to dizzying heights. Scores of oil operators and speculators wanted to get hold of the 40-acre farm of Henry Lobard, but he would not be taken. He had been on the spot in the beginning of the excitement he probably would have accepted a few dollars for the lease of his place. It was several weeks after the discovery was brought in that Lobard by chance picked up a daily newspaper and read of the great oil excitement.

It was the first he had heard of it. He quit his job and came to Texas. He was a man of about 40 years of age, and he was surrounded by a group of oil men, each trying to obtain a lease on his farm. He finally accepted an offer of $100,000 for the lease of his 40-acre farm. He was paid $100,000 for the lease of his 40-acre farm. He was paid $100,000 for the lease of his 40-acre farm.

SPENDING THEIR MONEY.

Naturally, these newly-rich folks are spending their money in a way that is not unusual. They are buying automobiles, and they are buying houses. They are buying land, and they are buying stock. They are buying everything that money can buy.

THEY ARE GOING TO DO WITH THEIR MONEY.

It is the land owner who has reaped the greatest financial benefits from the oil discoveries. To be sure, enormous sums of money have been made by speculators in land and royalties, and in a few instances purchasers of stocks in legitimate, fortunate companies have made large gains. The big oil corporations are the ones that are making the most money out of the crude petroleum. The men who are interested in these concerns are not of the speculative type and therefore not as much interested in the oil as the men who have suddenly come into big fortunes.

CHURCHES MADE RICH.

The membership of many of the country church congregations in Central West Texas are wonderful in size, derived from the leases of their farms for oil exploitation purposes. In not a few instances men who were poor that it was hard for them to raise money even for them to pay taxes on their unproductive lands and there are as many as 100 churches in the area where from $200 to $10,000 a year for the oil lease of their holdings. The officers of the churches are reaping the benefits of this unprecedented era of prosperity that has suddenly swept over the country.

The authorities ordered the closing of the "store" games. The concessionists are today being rapidly as possible.

Children Scatter Flowers on Lake in Memory of Those Who Fell Overseas.

Mr. Bryan's reference to the President being the servant of the people, "dry." That the President also was a proper soldier of the people, a question, is absolutely correct. This is a government of the people, by the people, for the people. It is not possible for Mr. Wilson to please the people. Not the number of States should decide the question of wet or dry—but the majority of the popular vote.

Not only are the brewers or the wine growers and manufacturers of the associated industries who are at this time to be thrown out of existence—meaning a great loss to the government and to individuals—then the extra taxation, which must follow the eradication of the industries, to the really heavy burden of the extra taxation, which is the evil of drinking, have caused by beer and light wine. I agree with them, are too hypocritical to see what they personally wish to see, and even those who do agree with them, are too hypocritical to see what they personally wish to see, as the real temperate people, made as much noise as the prohibitionists, and then we would all be informed with the continual reference to "what the dyes are doing."

ZOEHLNER SERIES.

QUARTETTE GIVES ATTRACTIVE

PROGRAMME AT EBELL.

By Edwin Schaller.

It is to be regretted that a greater number of people are not availing themselves of the chance of hearing the chamber music programmes the Zoehlner Quartette is presenting with such rare finish and understanding at the Ebell Club House.

The concert series has doubtless sufficient financial support, but deserves a much larger appreciation of the musicians displayed a sense of tonal color that illuminated the atmosphere of each interpretation.

The Napravnik Quartette, Opus

28, in a major, was the novelty of the programme. The glowing brilliance of its alto and soprano contrasted with the dreamy seductiveness of the largetto. The composition is simple in mood and content, with all the crude realism and stirring emotionalism with which this type of music is imbued. The closed the programme.

League of Nations and its discussions of the inter-church movement and labor questions as among the feawithout precedent in the history of Assembly. Dr. Baer himself is an earnest advocate of such innova-

TAKES OUT "SHAME"

Speaking of the resolutions of the Assembly disapproving President

Wilson's suggestion for a lifting of the war prohibition on wine and beer, Dr. Baer said he declined to sign the resolution. "It is a mistake," said Dr. Baer, "I maintained that it was improper to send that in a telegram. I said I might not go in the message to Paris."

The text of the message had been adopted while Dr. Baer was absent and the vice moderator was in the charge but Dr. Baer withheld his signature and next day got the hothead who proposed the text to move for a reconsideration and the words

"and shame" were eliminated.

THESE BONDS WILL NEITHER NOW NOR EVER COST YOU A SOLITARY CENT IN TAXES.

Leading business, commercial, labor, industrial and municipal elements are solidly FOR the bonds.

Special interests opposing the bonds are trying to deceive the voters.

Are you, Mr. Voter, going to let selfish interests cloud the issue and stand between Los Angeles and Prosperity?

Power Bonds mean cheaper electricity for every home.

Power bonds mean cheaper industrial electricity—more factories, more employment.

Power bonds mean cheaper electricity for street lighting—an item in itself that will mean a saving to the taxpayers of $200,000 per year.

Power bonds will mean a saving to the Citizens of Los Angeles who buy electricity of $500,000 per year.

The revenue from municipal power will ABSOLUTELY pay for the interest and sinking fund to retire these and all other power bonds and leave a surplus each year of $125,000.00.

Essick's Vernon Tigers Win Pair of Baseball Games from Red Killefer's Angelic

CROWD BREAKS YEAR'S RECORDS

Throng of People Watch the Bengals' Snap.

Seraphs Way Off Usual Form in Both Games.

Double Victory of Tigers Pleasing to Followers.

With a fury that knew no bounds the Tigers, at Washington Park yesterday, sank their teeth good and hard into the Angels and viciously shook two games out of their celestial tormentors, something like 4 to 1 in the morning and 10 to 6 in the afternoon. The morning affair had a semblance of the national pastime, but the afternoon contest had a tang of daymare. By it and could have aptly been termed a game of shades and patches. Yet for five innings it had the largest crowd of the season thus far constantly on the scene of pent-up expectancy. Time and again during this spell each club had a royal chance to clear the rubber a number of times, but the right man at the right moment inopportunely failed to make the front ranks fighting for a noble cause. Then like the sudden eruption of a volcano, the Vernon broke loose and smeared the ball all over the lot, scoring ten runs. It seemed that nothing but a seismic shock could have stopped them. Everything they did harmonized with one getting and no matter where the ball was hit, it seldom fell foul of Seraphic interference.

After coping the morning affair with Art Fromme in the box, Bill Essick placed his horse in his new southpaw. Ross, for the p.m. game. Lefty faltered through the opening inning all right, but the second found him as wild as a Malay saturated with opium. If all the spotlights in the world assisted by Old Sam had been centered on the plate, Ross could not have found it even with the aid of a telescope and a microscope. He walked Killefer, several of the balls threatening to find a nest in the wire work of the catcher's stand.

Then after Ellis had lined to the outfield, Killefer, off first, he named Niehoff and Bolen in succession. Had Aldridge been waiting to wait him out, the base would have been cleared, but the Seraph hurler in his anxiety to prove a hero with the willow hit an easy one to Beck and was charged at first. Here it was that the Seraph, Essick, lefty, in the shower and ordered Elmer Ratter to the mound in the last of the third inning.

Ratter pitched a swell article of ball. He was in several bad holes but these connectives. He got busy from the ears up and escaped unscathed—in fact he hurled one of the best games ever hereabouts this year thus far. He had excellent control and any time a heavier in the most. Leverage—Killefer, however, he comes pretty near finishing in front. On his showing yesterday, Ratter should probably be one of Essick's mainstays this season.

Red Killefer hit upon Vic Aldridge to even matters for the morning defeat. The selection was not auspicious and it required only two innings was Vic in tepid water. To the third session after two were dialed off, Johnny Mitchell singled infield and then in a wobbly at Aldridge walked Chadbourne and Edmonson. Up comes Robby Menzel and a flutter of expectancy circulated through grandstand and bleachers. Len Anster tightened his nose and panned Killefer expanded his mighty chest to 45 inches, passed a knowing look to several Bengali rosters close by. Bobby hit the first ball almost over the left fence but it went far foul. With two strikes on him, the League's best sent a groan of dismay from the crowd. The fifth inning put Aldridge out of conceit with himself, for the Bengale flashed their teeth at him and soon had him pawing the air. They scored three in the fifth and made right back over the plate, not the sixth but the seventh session was Vic's Waterloo. In this inning he was simply the delirious and to make matters worse he became so puzzle-headed when he ran to first to catch Fournier's throw that he tripped and fell. Fournier's grounder, that he stood with the ball struck to his hand and loved Beck to knock home from third right under his very nose. The crowd roared derisively as Vic stood at first very much like a pillar of salt.

The daymare occurred something like this: Menzel singled down the left field foul line and Fisher helped him to second. Then Killefer tried to right putting Bobby on second. Bolen singled infield filling the bases. Beck, who hadn't been out to get a ball out of the diamond since Metuselash passed the 700-year-old mark, actually singled left. Menzel and Fisher. Brooks went out. Niehoff to Fournier, the others advanced and Killefer hit out. Mitchell then singled infield scoring Borden. It was here that Beck rounded third and took home while Aldridge stood petrified at first. Mitchell easily stole second. Chadbourne singled, but Mitchell, thinking the Tigers had made enough runs grew careless at third and was nailed by a throw of Fournier to Niehoff. Four runs, and goodness knows how many more had it not been for the commiseration of Mitchell.

The Angels had a number of chances to score, but everything seemed to go awry with them at the psychological moment. In the fourth with the bases full, Fournier, who is likely at any time to hit the ball on any part of the compass, sent a long fly to deep center which Chadbourne copped. Chet must have given credit for playing far out for a long swipe meant the clearing of the bases. In the bottom of the third Chadbourne playing near to the fence (this, simply for illustration's sake) and Capt. Anson at the bat, the great Swede would have poked an easy one to the great space between second and the far-off Chadbourne, but he did not remember a gentle reader, that the game today does not possess a Capt. Anson.

In the last part of the third the Angels also had a chance to tap the rubber when the bases were full and Kenworthy at the bat. Bill Weller Ratter into three balls and it looked very much like a forced run over the plate, but Elmer, like the little cherub that he is, put it over on Bill by making him hit at a bad one which careered in the air about twenty inches right into the vel-

This is Art Fromme, Whose Name is Art.

Vernon of many games has not lost his prowess and twirled sensational game for Angels yesterday morning, successfully piloting his team mates to victory. Art looks as good as he ever did at the present and promises to put many games on the winning side of the Tigers' ledger.

come mits of Johnny Mitchell. Then up comes Rube Ellis with everything on his bat, but a base hit. He proved the easiest kind of an out by the Borton-Reiger route. After the fourth inning the Seraphs were about the most subdued bunch of ball players that one could run up with in a month of Sundays. Even their usual ninth inning rally faded into a squib, not that a rally here would have done them any good, but then there are players that like to fatten their bat-ting averages and will swing at 'em good and hard, even in the most adverse circumstances.

The morning game found Art Fromme at his best. He simply had the Los Angeles team at his mercy and had it not been for the fact that he let up for a spell in the ninth inning, would have shut them out. Artie mixed 'em up considerably and had the Angels' best bats pumiled at all times. Doc Crandall mounted for Killefer.

Doc was lucky to get by for three innings, but in the fourth, these pesky Tigers just lighted on his groin, and parted them to all corners of the lot. Ota's debacle was compassed about as follows: Fromme almost hit the left field fence with a long drive and simply looked to second. The big crowd gave him a cordial hail, Mitchell bunted to Crandall and Doc not having cooled off from the humiliation of Fromme's swipe, threw wild to Niehoff. Art being safe at third, Chad singled to left, scoring Fromme. Edgington tripled to left, scoring Mitchell and Chad. Fournier hit to center field fence for what looked like a homer, but was caught at the plate.

Caldera then relieved Crandall and heaved a fine article of ball. The youngster showed the right kind of stuff and may prove a valuable addition to Killefer's pitching staff. The Angels never threatened until the last inning when they managed to put one run over. The scores:

SEVENTEEN MEN FOR OLD PENNY

To Enter that Many in Track Event Today.

Believe Cornell will Win the Championship.

No Trials Held in Mile and Two-Mile Runs.

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 30.—The well balanced track team of the University of Pennsylvania qualified seventeen men today in trials for the track and field championship of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America.

Although Pennsylvania led the field in the number of athletes qualified, Cornell, with ten men eligible to compete in eleven events, was thought by many tonight to have the best chance to win the championship because of the team's strength in the mile and two-mile runs.

Michigan qualified twelve men, largely through the efforts of Carl E. Johnson, who placed himself in the finals tomorrow in the 100-yard dash, the 120-yard hurdles, the high jump and the broad jump.

Harvard qualified ten men; Dartmouth, nine; Yale, eight; Princeton, seven; Georgetown, six; Rutgers, five; Massachusetts Tech. and Syracuse, three each; Columbia, Lafayette, Bowdoin and Pittsburgh, two each, and the University of Maine, one.

The annual tennis tournament on the Y.M.C.A. courts got off to a flying start yesterday. Simpson Sinsabaugh and his allies saw that everything was arranged in a satisfactory manner.

Some fast play was witnessed on the opening day and a large crowd of spectators witnessed the matches, many of which were exciting to a great degree.

If You Want Good Oranges

You can have them always by asking for "Sunkist"

WHEN a food is good—uniformly good—why not always get it? Many people pay just as much as Sunkist costs for mediocre fruit.

The reason we trade-mark certain oranges "Sunkist" is so that you who want good fruit can designate it by name.

We sell millions of oranges, but not all are Sunkist because not all come up to the Sunkist standard.

Learn what that standard is. Buy Sunkist every time you buy oranges for the next few months—and note their uniformity.

Then you'll know that name's value to you.

COUNTY JAIL A CHICKEN COOP.

Too Weak to Hold Some Birds at that, Says Jailer.

Advises Supervisors to Put up a Modern Structure.

Should Have Capacity for Four Hundred Prisoners.

The Board of Supervisors will again be asked to take up the question of a new County Jail, especially in view of the conditions brought to light by recent attempts of prisoners to break out, according to a statement yesterday by Capt. George Gallagher, jailer of the county institution. The jailer called attention to marked weaknesses, not only in the building itself, but in the system which is necessitated by the condition of the building, and said that he would renew his request that the county provide an up-to-date jail.

"This jail is like a chicken coop, compared to one at Louisville, Ky., for instance, where the population is about half that of Los Angeles," said Capt. Gallagher. He recently returned from the East, where he visited a number of the better institutions.

He said that at Louisville the county jail covered a half block, its four stories and all bars are chilled steel. In showing the difference, he showed how easy it is for a big jail delivery from the Los Angeles County Jail, where the bars are of soft iron, easily saved. In one place a strong man could bend the bars up and escape easily.

"There is no use patching up the jail," he continued. "It has been patched now so that it looks like a crazy quilt. I believe it is the present system required in respect to visitors that permitted Lewis B. Harris, charged with looting the Artesia Bank, and Otto Darsch, convicted for auto stealing, to smuggle tools into the jail. On account of the building it is necessary to allow what visitors are admitted to talk to their prisoners in a place where it would be to trouble for a visitor to hand in a saw or brace and bit. Visitors were not allowed to see the prisoners, yet another prisoner could get the tools for them."

Capt. Gallagher said that because of the condition of the jail bars it is necessary to have a number of watchmen at night, which would mean a saving if a new jail were built. There are 245 prisoners in the County Jail at present and capacity for 325. A new jail, he says, which might be built on corner property back of the present jail and on New High street, should provide additional cells up to 400.

He thinks an expert should superintend the building of a new jail. A system of steel screens, he said, like that used in Baltimore, Md., considered one of the strongest jails in the country, is needed. Harris is said to have escaped from that institution, but not from the County Jail. At present, it was said, the County Jail has some of the most desperate criminals in the West, most of whom are awaiting trial.

JUDGE TO DECIDE IF JEALOUSY IS CRUELTY.

FORMER MINISTER, NOW DOCTOR, SAYS IT IS JUSTICE WANTS FURTHER PROOF.

Whether or not jealousy of women patients of a doctor-husband constitutes cruelty in the eyes of the law, will be decided next Thursday, when the trial of a divorce action started by Dr. Howard F. Wright, former minister and now a physician of Hollywood, is resumed in the court of Judge Works.

Dr. Wright is seeking a divorce from Alice Brook Wright, who is said to be living in Berkeley. The case was continued last week for more evidence to corroborate the physician's charges.

Dr. Wright declares his wife's jealousy had no just cause; that she also accused him of using narcotics, and that one night when he breathed peculiarly, she said he must have "changed his dose." The couple separated in March. They were married June 23, 1907. The divorce is not being contested.

Mr. Olsen's resolution also provides that the market superintendent shall be authorized to act as a mediator and arbitrator when invited by all parties in all controversies or issues that may arise between producers and all others on the food situation, and that he shall extend, in every practicable way, the distribution of California fruit products to the markets of the world.

The resolution also outlines further duties for the market superintendent, as follows: "Also the head of the market department is hereby authorized to make and enforce any and all regulations to do and perform any and all things which are necessary to bring about a reduction in the prices of food products."

John Gallagher, rector of Holy Cross Church, was deacon; Rev. Daniel O'Connell, assistant priest at the Church of Our Lady of Guadalupe, and Rev. Henry Gross, assistant secretary to Bishop Cantwell, master of ceremonies.

MANY PLEADING FOR PASSPORTS.

Big Rush of Passengers Overseas if Uncle Sam will Consent.

Passport Clerk R. E. Zimmerman, of the office of Charles N. Williams, clerk of the United States District Court, is getting ready for an unexpected rush of applicants for passports to Europe, in June.

There has been a deluge of inquiries since the announcement that the wives, mothers and sisters of officers and enlisted men of the American Expeditionary Forces might go to France, England and Italy, after June 1, provided their "men-folks" were not coming back to the United States within the next six months. After the applications are made at the local office it is necessary to send them to the State Department at Washington for action.

Mr. Zimmerman has figured out that the office will be swamped with work, as daily inquiries are being made in regard to the matter. He is getting ready for the rush.

AUTO TRUCKS NOW AT BOTTOM OF THE SEA.

THREW 'EM OVERBOARD TO SAVE SHIP, SAYS SAILOR BACK FROM FRANCE.

Does anybody want five perfectly good auto trucks, simply for the trouble of picking them up? Then apply to old man Neptune, for some trucks at the bottom of the Atlantic, about mid-ocean, lie the aforementioned trucks, waiting for someone to claim them.

This information comes from Albert C. Turon, who yesterday returned to his position in The Times newspaper after more than a year spent in the service of Uncle Sam on board the U.S.S. Galea, which was built at Los Angeles Harbor. Mr. Turon left the harbor May 20, 1910, having volunteered as second-class machinist mate. Before the end of his year of service he had been promoted to the position of chief machinist.

The Galea first went down the coast to Chile, secured a load of nitrate, and then sailed for the Panama Canal, to New York, unloaded at that harbor and took on a load of army supplies, including several large automobile trucks.

"On the way to Bordeaux," said Mr. Turon, "the ship was struck by a storm which lasted for five days. Our ship would surely have gone down had we not thrown five of the big wagons overboard to prevent them smashing up the steering gear. I suppose the mermaids and mermen down on the floor of the great briny are still wondering what struck them."

Altogether, Mr. Turon traveled more than 60,000 miles on the sea, having visited Paris, 90,000 miles, Brest, France and other ports. He also visited the Chateau Thierry and Clermont battle fronts. Mr. Turon is of French descent and in Paris he met an uncle and several cousins he had never seen before.

WOULD MAKE MARKET HEAD FOOD AUTOCRAT.

OLSEN PLANS ORDINANCE TO GIVE HIM ARBITRARY POWERS HERE.

Councilman Olsen will present to the City Council Monday a resolution, instructing the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance, giving the superintendent of the municipal market department "full and complete arbitrary power over the entire food distribution situation in this city," and authorizing him to gather and disseminate information concerning the supply, demand, prevailing prices and commercial movements, including cold storage, of any and all food products.

Mr. Olsen's resolution also provides that the market superintendent shall be authorized to act as a mediator and arbitrator when invited by all parties in all controversies or issues that may arise between producers and all others on the food situation, and that he shall extend, in every practicable way, the distribution of California fruit products to the markets of the world.

The resolution also outlines further duties for the market superintendent, as follows: "Also the head of the market department is hereby authorized to make and enforce any and all regulations to do and perform any and all things which are necessary to bring about a reduction in the prices of food products."

CHOOSE POMONA MAN.

New Head of Vocational Training Here For Soldiers.

G. Vernon Bennett, former superintendent of the city schools in Pomona, has been placed in charge of the office of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, on the sixth floor of the Merchants' Trust Building, this city, where he is being assisted by Charles B. Elliott, a local man, and Dr. B. S. Cowan, formerly of Claremont.

According to Mr. Bennett, as many as 75 per cent. of the disabled soldiers and sailors are availing themselves of the opportunity for retraining in some line where their disability will not be a handicap. For example, a railway fireman, who sustained a stiff knee from gunshot wound, has taken a course of Stationary Engineering, and already obtained a satisfactory position as engineer in a saw mill. A riveter employed on a large wheat farm at good wages, a bakery wagon driver and clerk who developed valvular heart disease from over-exertion, has completed a course in stenography and typewriting and obtained a position starting at $100 per month. Such are the successes which the government is achieving in its marvelous work of rehabilitation.

RETURNS FROM THE EAST.

F. H. Harris, buyer of furs for Myer Siegel & Co., returned Tuesday from an extended eastern buying trip. The demand of fashionable women for sables, marten, seal, mink and all of the more expensive furs made this trip imperative, as the fine collection of furs bought by Mr. Harris early in the season was immediately purchased by Myer Siegel & Company's Los Angeles patrons. The furs from the State headquarters also went to the harbor, last evening, to organize a local legion.

CHASED UP A TREE.

Huntington Park Girl Had First Tried Suicide, It Is Said.

An attempt at suicide on the part of Ada Eastman, 18, who lives with her parents on Long Beach boulevard, near Huntington Park, was frustrated yesterday by the timely intervention of Deputy Sheriff Walter Lips and two other deputies. According to a report to the Sheriff's office, the girl, who was angry because she was ordered by her mother to perform a certain task, she found a revolver in her father's bedroom and following a struggle with her mother was disarmed. A few minutes later she disappeared and her parents, fearing she would carry out the threat to end her life, called the deputies.
